Do you recycle your garbage? It is not only sustainable but it's also a great way to save on some money, DAR-bags are expensive after all. Want another fun way to recycle? Give your pringlescan a second life! They are ideal to store your garbage bags, coffeepads or other items. Use some gift-wrapping paper to brighten them up! What will you use them for?

A man is trapped in a room. The room has only two possible exits: two doors. Through the first door, there is a room constructed from just one material: magnifying glass. The blazing hot sun instantly fries anything or anyone that enters. Through the second door there is a fire-breathing dragon capable of scorching everyone who gets too close. How does the man escape?

STUDENT COUNCIL: WORK IN PROGRESS

Election programme: AKKUraadtd's to-do-list

Akkuraatd has not been idle the past month. Our USC and party members are working hard for you at the JA and behind the scenes. We find it important that the goals in our election programme are met, and we are currently doing everything to achieve just that. In our election programme, which can be found at www.akkuraatd.nl/vp-2017, you can find the improvements we will fight for this year, both in the USC and outside of it. Our to-do list this year is ever growing, but we will highlight some of the relevant points below.

At the moment we are fighting for the pilot 'flexible studying'. Students who need it can plan their study activities the way they want to, like young parents or students who have to take care of their family. Good education is most important to AKKUraadtd. It is for this reason that we want all Radboud students to be able to study with great flexibility in their individual programs. AKKUraadtd also fights for a student life for everyone. It is our goal to put the mental health of students on the map so truly everyone can enjoy their time as a student. Another point from our election programme that is relevant is the improvement of the regulation FONDS for (a.o.) student board-members. Do you have suggestions for improvements for our university? Send us an email at fractie@akkuraatd.nl, or come and tell us at one of our activities!

For many students it is a well known occurrence when you have some month left at the end of your money. Unfortunately, cooking for one is always a little more expensive and eating the same thing every day is not something to look forward to. Eating at the Refter every day isn't a cheap option either. Good news! It is not that difficult to eat healthy, delicious, and cheap as a student!

First of all, it is cheaper to eat seasonal vegetables. You can get almost everything throughout the whole year in a supermarket but that causes vegetables to be more expensive in certain seasons than in others because they have to be imported. Another option that can save you some money is to get your groceries at the market instead of the supermarket. But how do you know which stall is the cheapest? All the way at the end of the market, at the corner close to the Valkhof museum is a stall with fruit and vegetables that are not accepted by supermarkets, which makes them very cheap! Finally, leaving out meat is a cheap and sustainable option.

Sustainability is something very important to AKKUraadtd. Do you have questions or do you just want some information? Don't hesitate to email us at info@akkuraatd.nl.

PS: Are you the student who has some money left at the end of your month? Did you know you can subscribe to weekly organic fruit- and vegetables packages at AKKU?

PPS: answer AKKUUnumdrum: He waits for night and goes through the first door.

The University Student Council had another Joint Assembly (JA) with the Executive Board (EB) on 6 November. This Toilet Paper will highlight three subjects but the extensive report can be found on our website: www.akkuraatd.nl!

There's a good chance you've already heard of this, but... it's true. We are all going to have to wake up a bit earlier next semester, because as of 2018-2019 classes will start at 8:30. How this will be put into practice will be discussed in the next JA. Why has this been decided? Research revealed that the traffic problems with public transportation and traffic safety around the University during rush hour will be improved because of this. Are you curious what this will mean for you? Keep an eye on our Toilet Paper!

The second important point that was discussed is the English level of teachers. You might have seen the petition which was started by a group of psychology students. They think that the English on campus is lacking in every single way. The EB explained how the quality of the English of teachers is determined. Teachers have to understand English on a C1 or C2 level of the Common European Framework of Reference but they also have to teach a lecture, which are recorded and checked to get feedback on the English.

Lastly, the Multi-annual Investment Prognosis (MIP) was discussed, particularly about the renovation around the Erasmus building as centre and the other buildings of the University. The shortage of lab rooms at the Huygens building can be dealt with in 2019 at the earliest. The centre plan does not seem to be a problem but it looks like there is a shortage of outlets at the Medical Faculty because of a change in education. The EB says that sufficient money will go to the Faculty to solve this problem. With each new building project AKKUraadtd pleads for sustainably energy and use of re-usable materials.
