Elections 2019

We were the first party to present our electoral list. The elections for the University Student Council will take place from the 3rd to the 6th of June 2019. Are you wondering which fifteen students will represent your votes? Take a look at their beautiful pictures.

1. Natuur-en Sterrenkunde, 2. Geschiedenis & Politicologie, 3. Biologie, 4. Business Administration, 5. Pedagogische Wetenschappen, 6. Rechtsgeleerdheid & Notarieel Recht, 7. Geneeskunde, 8. Psychology, 9. Bestuurskunde, 10. Artificial Intelligence, 11. Geneeskunde, 12. Engelse Taal en Cultuur, 13. Politicologie, 14. Psychology, 15. Religiewetenschappen & Theologie

The past few months our Student Council members have been working hard to realise our bullet points from the party program. Read here the most important points of what we've accomplished so far!

Good education

Good news for the ambitious students! The Honours Program will be available for more students. Motivation will be the most important point of selection, instead of your grades. In addition there will also be shorter faculty honours labs to make the Honours Program more accessible. Also, in the nearby future, there will be changes around the binding study advice, where motivation will also be playing a bigger part and there will be more focus on targeted study advice. Lastly, for international students there's some good news! The Social Dutch course will be offered for free.

Student life for everyone

Due to our input in the Joint Assembly, research will be done about how the Radboud University (RU) can make everyone feel at home on the campus. The university has already adjusted the opening times of the new Refter from 7.30 'till 20.00 so you can spend more time at campus without growing hungry. For students who were part of a student board it is once again possible to get a board certificate (even with retroactivity).

Sustainability

There will be more vegetarian and vegan options in the new Refter and there are more healthy options available. Besides that, research will be done about the sustainable footprint of the RU.

Strong student representation

The Student Council is working together with the Faculty Council Members to improve the transmission and entry of the faculty councils and Training Committee.

There's also a new plan to make the Student Council more open for international students.

Outside our four main pillars, we've been busy with what the Catholic identity of the RU means for our university, for which we have held a symposium on the 17th of April. Furthermore, we've asked questions about decentralized selection for numerus fixus studies, since we believe some students will be in disadvantage at such selections.

Vegan Pasta Pesto

Pasta Pesto is maybe the most famous student dish in the Netherlands. Although it is easy to make, tasty and cheap, you might be longing for some variety. Give the vegan version of this classic dish a try – perfect for spring! This might be too much pesto, but as we all know, pesto is good with almost everything. You need a food processor or a blender for the pesto, but a pestle and mortar work fine as well.

Ingredients for two happy roomies

- 15 gr basil leaves (1 tray)
- 1,5 tablespoon pine nuts (or sunflower seeds, in case you're allergic)
- 1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice + a bit of zest
- 2 tablespoons extra virgin olive oil
- 2 crushed garlic cloves
- 1 tablespoon nutritional yeast*
- Water
- 1 zucchini, sliced
- 300 gr fresh spinach, chopped
- 250 gr cherry tomatoes
- Salt to taste
- Pasta of your choice

Preheat the oven at 180 degrees. Line a baking tray with paper. Mix 1 tablespoon oil with 1 crushed garlic clove. Mix the garlic oil with the courgette slices and cherry tomatoes and bake them for 20minutes in the oven.

In the meantime, boil some water for the pasta and add the pasta when the water is cooking. Make the pesto: blitz the basil, leftover garlic and oil, nutritional yeast, lemon zest and juice and pine nuts. Taste, and add salt if necessary. Add the pesto to the boiled pasta, save a tablespoon of cooking water and add it to the pasta + pesto. Stir in the spinach, it shrinks quickly. Serve the pasta pesto with the baked zucchini and tomatoes on top.

*Nutritional yeast (Dutch: edelgistvlokken) is the secret ingredient that makes vegan food taste cheesy. You can buy it at the bigger Albert Heijn stores, Jumbo or Holland and Barrett.

Joint Assembly February Nijmegen

The Last Joint Assembly on 11th February had a short agenda. Nonetheless, we have spoken about some relevant subjects for AKKUraatd. First up, the Open Letter to the Executive Board. In this letter, AKKUraatd asks the board to investigate the impact of decentralized selection on our university. The motive for this letter was an article in ScienceGuide that showed that decentralized selection has a negative impact on diversity and accessibility of higher education. The board said they are not willing to start a new investigation about this subject. AKKUraatd will be invited by the board to talk about this issue another time.

Second, Wilma de Koning, vice president of the Executive Board, said, in response to a question asked by AKKUraatd and the other members of the council, an investigation has started to see if it is possible to work with one type of coffee cup. This betters the recycling process. Also, the board will facilitate more water points on campus. In the student council AKKUraatd proposed a plan to the Department of Property Management to place these tap points. We are waiting on the response and will discuss it with the Executive Board. With this measure, the board hopes to reduce the quantity of plastic bottles on campus.
